

Abstract

The invention relates to a method for interactive audio/visual reproduction of a film with several scenes (2-5), the width and/or height of which is larger than the visible section (SA) of the film when the film is replayed. The viewer controls the position of the visible section within the dimensions of the entire film. During replay of the film, audio information is also replayed that does not belong to the visible section.

DRAFT--DO NOT CITE OR QUOTE